InFirst Federal Credit Union Executive Leadership Changes

ALEXANDRIA, VA (02/22/2023) – InFirst Federal Credit Union (InFirst) announces changes to its Executive Leadership team.

Steve Davitt, formerly the Vice President of Strategic Development, is now the Chief Innovation Officer, responsible for leading our Facilities, Marketing, and Projects teams.

Tameka Murphy, formerly the Vice President of Human Resources, is now the Chief Experience Officer, responsible for leading all InFirst Retail Branches, the Call Center, Human Resources, Training and Development, Information Technology, and our Operations teams.

Mike Mutchler, formerly the Vice President of Lending, is now the Chief Growth Officer, responsible for leading our Compliance, Lending, and Loan Servicing teams.

Carolyn Inscoe will continue as the Chief Financial Officer, responsible for leading our Accounting and Finance teams.

“I am confident that this leadership team, in collaboration with the entire credit union and Board of Directors, will ensure the growth of InFirst FCU. By working together, we can meet the needs of our members and future members to be their one-stop shop for all of their financial needs,” says Mark Hudzik, President and CEO of InFirst FCU.

About InFirst Federal Credit Union

InFirst (infirstfcu.org) has spent 88 years dedicated to fulfilling the financial dreams of its members. The credit union serves more than 15,000 members who live, work, worship, or attend school in most of Botetourt, King George, Roanoke, Salem, and Vinton, VA, members of the InFirst Responders Foundation, Inc., many active and retired federal employees, Select Employee Groups (SEGs), as well as any immediate family members of an existing member. InFirst has almost $250 million in assets and eight branch locations throughout Virginia, Maryland, and Washington, D.C.
